People always think that without healthy weather or a nice nature they can live healthy. But this is wrong. There are a lot of people with different health problems , for example ; bleeding nose , sore eyes , cough , heart failure. Some of these problems are because of not paying attention to the nature.

We live in cities with no trees or mountains and rivers. We need healthy weather but in cities the weather is warm. Because of this your nose bleed. And because it is really hot it hurts your eyes or heart. We don't try to protect the nature and increase the number of cars , roads and buildings by cutting the trees , killing the animals and drying the rivers.

When the nature is not healthy , humans are not healthy , too. If we want an excellent health , we should try to take care of the nature. We need nice weather and clean water. So we should pay attention to our nature.
